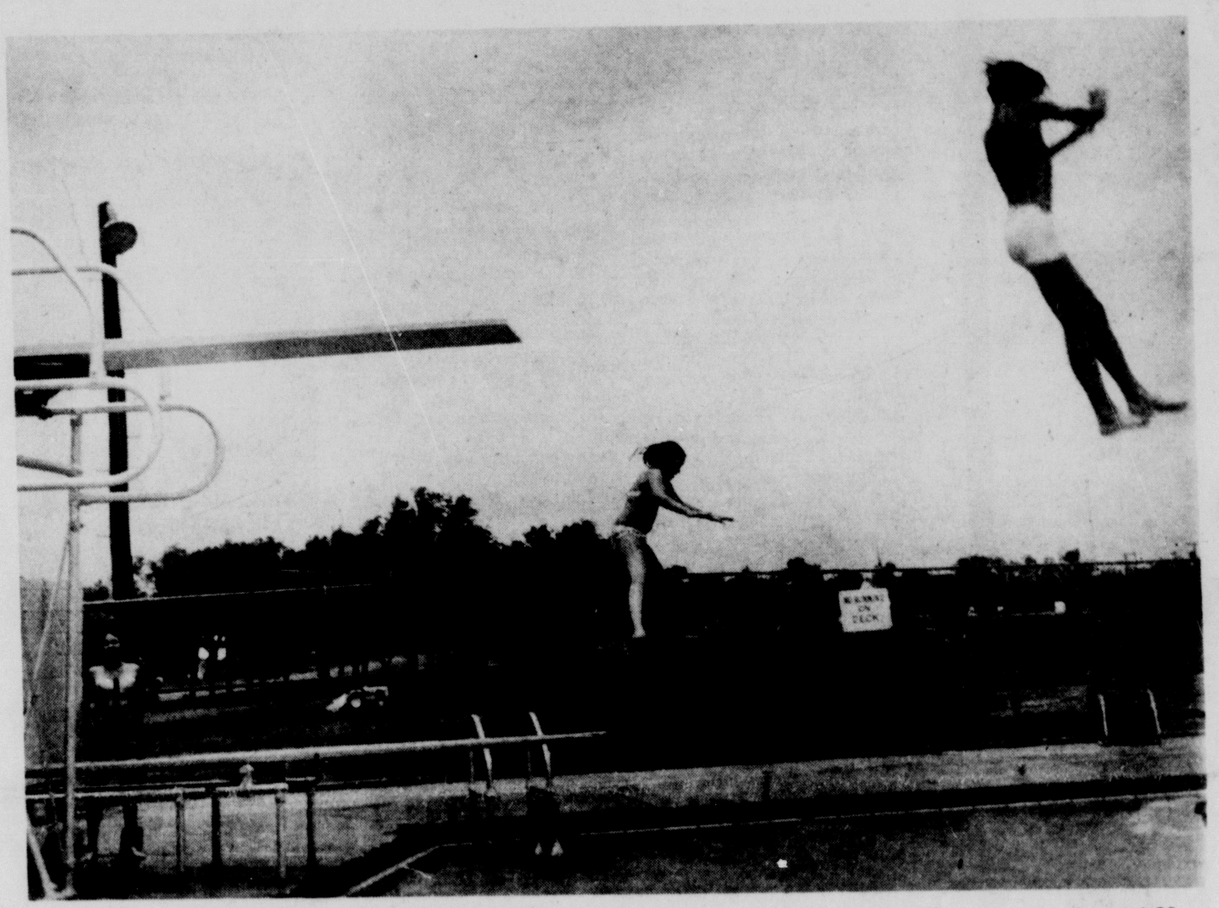
Landslide 'Yes' Given To City Hall; Construction Bids To Be In July 10



Canyon's city swimming pool opened Saturday, June 1. Canyon youngsters have been enjoying the water fun of swimming and diving. The pool opens each day at 1:30 p.m.

Canyon will have a new city hall.

Voters overwhelmingly approved construction of a new $1.3 million city hall during voting Tuesday in a special city election called to decide the issue.

It was the second all-time high vote in city history as 910 persons cast ballots. The vote was 744 for construction of a new city hall and 160 against, a 4.5 to 1 victory.

City commissioners canvassed the vote in a special meeting Tuesday night and set 2 p.m. July 10 as the date to receive bids for construction of the building.

"I think the vote today plus the vote in April shows the voters are behind this commission and support our policies and decisions," Mayor Manly Bryan said following the meeting. "The majority of citizens feel like we need new facilities."

Elation in the commission chambers followed an announcement of the vote count as about a dozen persons clapped and cheered. Commissioners were obviously pleased with the turn-out and the turn of the vote.

In an unusual move, Mayor Bryan made the motion to seek bids himself for the entire commission.

"Now there's just one other worry," City Manager George Loudder told commissioners. "Getting it in where we can afford it."

Commissioners have been warned by architectural consultants that inflation could cause prices to continue to rise each month the bidding is put off. But, commissioners felt the price wouldn't rise noticeably before July 10.

With bids to be accepted in mid-July, construction on the new city hall could begin during August.

The Tuesday election climaxed a year-long study effort which saw commissioners methodically plan each step of the construction project with architects from HD&R, a Dallas firm.

The vote had been called after a handful of local residents circulated a petition calling for an initiative vote on the issue.

The petitioners petitioned twice before commissioners called the special election.

The new structure will house a fire station, police station, library and city administrative offices under one roof.

The building construction will be financed through federal revenue sharing money, unencumbered reserves from the water and sewer and general funds and through issuance of about $190,000 in certificates of obligation.

City Postpones SWPS Increases

A rate increase for customers of Southwestern Public Service Co. was postponed Tuesday night by city commissioners who referred the company's request to an Amarillo consulting firm for study.

Commissioners instructed City Manager George Loudder to work with Bill McMorries of Amarillo in studying the company proposal.

Southwestern Public Service Co. has requested an almost 10 per cent rate increase for all Canyon customers to become effective for September billings.

Loudder told commissioners there apparently will be no joint effort among cities in the SWPS service area to study the rate hike request. But, he said, many of the cities are referring the information provided by the company concerning the request to McMorries for consideration.

Commissioners passed a resolution which makes flood insurance for housing in flood plain areas immediately available.

The resolution commits the commission to the adoption of certain land control ordinances to ensure proper safeguards are taken concerning construction of housing or buildings in flood plain areas.

Election officials recheck their voter lists during a break in heavy voting Tuesday morning in the special city election. Voters overwhelmingly approved construction of a new city hall as a result of the vote. The total was 744 for and 160 against.

School Board Calls On Briscoe To Call Session For Financing

Canyon School Board members Tuesday night called on Gov. Dolph Briscoe to call a special session of the Texas Legislature to study school financing.

The board will sign a letter to Briscoe seeking the special session as a result of their action Tuesday night.

Supt. Jerry Jacobs urged the board to request the session, saying a special session which produced fruitful action could mean as much as $100,000 to the Canyon school district.

Jacobs said the legislature in its last session cutback on some school funds and yet added new programs without funding them — both of which had the effect of placing a heavier burden on the local taxpayer.

The legislators considered legislation on school financing during their 1973 regular session, but balked at passing any new bills. They were spurred into action originally by a federal lawsuit involving a South Texas school district.

Jacobs said the legislature, while they failed to pass a package reform of school financing, did pass measures which impacted on school districts throughout the state.

They appropriated money for supplementing salaries for teachers only for one year of the biennium, for example, he said, and the lack of funding for the second year will cost the local district about $7500.

The legislators hurried up the time for kindergarten pupils to enter, and made mandatory kindergarten for certain age groups an earlier reality than originally planned.

This law had the effect of adding additional manpower and space burdens on the school district, but the legislature did not fund the kindergarten program, so local districts are footing the bill, Jacobs said.

While the legislature failed to fund new programs it made mandatory by law, the state will end up with a surplus of about $300 million this year, Jacobs said primarily due to the increased drilling activity in Texas oil and gas fields.

One plan talked of in the realm of school financing legislation could mean as much as $100,000 to the Canyon district, he told board members.

But, Jacobs was not optimistic the governor will call a special session.

"The feeling is now at the state level that it's doubtful he will call a special session," he said.

In other business Tuesday night, board members approved conducting a survey of agriculture departments in schools around the Panhandle.

Jacobs proposed the survey be conducted so local administrators can learn how other schools handle transportation costs, budgets for supplies, equipment and procedures for operating a school farm.

Three Canyon High agriculture teachers resigned this spring to take other jobs and board members were called on at their last meeting to reconsider the resignations of the three by several area agricultural leaders.

Board members went into executive session about 10 p.m. Tuesday to discuss personnel.

Following the executive session, board members reconvened in open session and extended a contract renewal to Jacobs for another three years as superintendent.

Canyon Days Parade, Feed Races Finalized By C of C

Final plans were laid Monday night for what Chamber of Commerce directors hope will be the biggest and best Canyon Days Celebration ever.

The two-day celebration is set for June 28-29 with the primary activities scheduled for the 29th highlighted by a parade, barbecue and pony express races.

Directors have made major changes for this year's celebration with all events to occur in the early evening hours when temperatures are lower.

A parade will begin at 5 p.m. June 29 on the square in Canyon and more than 40 entries, including riding clubs, clowns, motorcycles, beauty queens and floats will travel down 4th Avenue east to 19th Street and then south to Conner Park where the parade will break up.

Director George Stevens is in charge of the parade events.

At 6 p.m. at the park, County Judge Woody Pond will serve up his famous barbecue beef dinner with beans, onions and all the trimmings.

More than 2000 persons are expected for the dinner which will cost $2 per plate for adults and $1.50 per plate for children under 12.

The barbecue beef will be sold for $1.75 per pound following the dinner.

An auction and drawing for the Canyon Days Sale will begin at 7 p.m. in the park.

The Chamber will auction off five numbered sets of the gold commemorative coins now being minted for the bi-centennial celebration for Randall County.

The coin sets to be auctioned will bear the numbers one through five. Normally the sets sell for $100 each.

Following the auction, the directors will draw for a color television set to be given away through the Canyon Days Sale now in progress in the city.

More than two dozen merchants have donated prizes for the sale.

Shoppers may sign-up for the drawing by visiting with any of the local merchants listed in special Canyon Days Sale advertisements in The News.

More than 26 other prizes will also be drawn for during the evening.

The World Championship Pony Express Races will begin at the Randall County Sheriff's Posse arena south of the city at 8 p.m. June 28.

Ten teams from Texas and Oklahoma are already entered for the two-night tournament.

A total of $2800 in prize money will be given for the best teams in the races, which originated with the local sheriff's posse.

The races will begin again at 8 p.m. June 29 to decide the winners.

More than 300 persons are expected to be in town to compete in the races.

Jimmy Plain of the sheriff's posse is in charge of the races.

Teams entered are from throughout the Texas Panhandle and Oklahoma

Rains Give Moisture For Planting

Weekend rains over Randall County gave farmers the impetus they needed to begin planting dryland grain sorghum and provided the first major break in a months-long drought which has plagued the area.

While measurements in the city of Canyon were low, farmers in outlying areas of the county reported as much as three inches of moisture from rains which fell Saturday and Sunday nights.

Canyon officially received .25 of an inch Saturday and .43 of an inch Sunday.

The weekend rains coupled with rains last weekend to provide the planting moisture needed to put the farmers on their tractors for the summer planting, which is expected to continue through June.

Last weekend, the county received as much as two inches in places as steady rains fell.

"These rains have been significant," County Agent John Brazzil said. "So we will have some planting moisture on dryland."

Apparently, no hail was reported in the weekend showers, a constant threat at this time of year to a maturing wheat crop.

Exactly how much dryland grain sorghum will be planted this year is still a question-mark.

Estimates run to the 100,000 acre extreme, but officials are unsure how farmers will move this year.

Between 35,000 and 45,000 acres of irrigated grain sorghum have already been planted and that figure remains static on an almost annual basis due to the

Dead End For County In Fire Call Fee Negotiation

County commissioners have apparently run into a dead end in their dealings with the City of Amarillo concerning the controversial $840 per fire fee charged by that city to fight rural county fires.

Commissioner Jim Fletcher indicated Monday that not only will Amarillo not lower its per fire fee, but chances are very good the fee will be hiked for next year.

The fire fee charged by Amarillo to send trucks into areas outside the city limits to fight fires has been a sore point for county commissioners for six months.

Fletcher said he and commissioner John Fulgenzi met with Amarillo city officials and Potter County Auditor Herb Pestor recently to examine Amarillo's justification for the $840 per fire charge.

He said the county officials were told the charge would be higher next year due to rising costs of labor and equipment.

"It doesn't look like fire calls will ever be any cheaper than they are at present and they will probably be higher," Fletcher said.

Fletcher said he and Fulgenzi examined the city budget for the fire department in an effort to determine how the city figured its $840 per fire fee. He said the city apparently takes the total fire department budget, including depreciation, debt service and all other items and pro-rates the cost on a per fire basis.

Randall and Potter County officials have complained bitterly in several joint meetings about the fire costs and the charges were the focal point of a joint meeting last month in Amarillo during which Amarillo Mayor Ray Vahue complained that city commissioners were being portrayed as trying to gouge the counties.

Fletcher said the county was also represented at the recent meeting by Bill Frances, outside auditor for the county.

He said the officials are primarily interested in learning how the fire fee is arrived at so a similar cost-accounting approach can be used by the county to figure what to charge Amarillo for certain services the county provides currently at no charge.

He said the county had originally hoped that a trade-off of services could be instituted with the county then paying a certain fee over and above the trade agreement.

But, he said, apparently no such trade will be feasible and the county will have to figure charges on the various services it performs for the city.

The county has for years provided the city at no charge a complete listing of automobile registrations for use by the city police

FROM THE CANYON RIM

It was heartening to see the overwhelming vote the people cast Tuesday in favor of the proposed new city hall complex.

Industry is beginning to look seriously at Canyon and it was getting rather embarrassing to have folks contemplating big expenditures in the community see our dilapidated city facilities.

The new city hall complex will be the icing on the cake. It along with the new churches and the new hospital should be impressive to future visitors.

I think modern public facilities, like modern plant equipment in private enterprise, will make money for the taxpayer rather than cost him. The time has come that we must attract industry which will not only provide payroll but help to bear the community's tax burdens.

Santa Fe, NM, only recently lost a multi-million dollar film industry principally because of poor streets and lack of transportation. Several pictures scheduled for shooting in the Santa Fe area have been cancelled because the streets of Santa Fe are narrow and torn up and there is no rail and little air transport into the nation's oldest capitol.

I was in Santa Fe over the week end and believe me, even if the place is one big traffic jam, it's a fun town.

For openers, Jack Smith, ad director of The Santa Fe News, took me out to lunch. He asked if I wanted Mexican food and hearing the affirmative he took me to a place run by an elderly woman, Senora Vigil. Her son, Mike, was one of the leading candidates for sheriff.

Mama Vigil cooks Mexican food the like of which I had never eaten before. I gorged myself on enchiladas and tamales and then, forgetting that scales even exist, I topped it off with sopapillas and honey — all this for less than $3.

I went out to Cerillos Friday night and saw the melodrama and enjoyed a meal at Tiffany's, reputed to be one of the oldest saloons and restaurants in the US.

President Teddy Roosevelt and Lew Wallace who served as territorial governor and wrote Ben Hur still are proudly referred to as former patrons and notorious Billy the Kid once lapped suds while standing at Tiffany's ornate bar slit-eyed looking for his next victim.

The melodrama is a blast. For 15 cents you can buy a bag of peanuts — raw so you won't be tempted to eat them — to throw at the slimy villain. The only trouble is that the villain is getting rather adept at snapping peanuts out of the air and hurling them back at his tormentor.

He's the only guy I ever saw who could raise a blister with a peanut. I think he doubles as a relief pitcher for some major league outfit.

In Santa Fe I struck up a friendship with Joe Cat'e, a full-blood Pueblo Indian from San Domingo. Joe farms and makes turquoise jewelry.

He says he does well in his jewelry business. He, along with other Indians, sell their handcraft in front of the Palace of the Governors. A modest price for a fancy silver and turquoise necklace would run from $2,000 to $2,500.

Maybe the Indians who sold Manhattan for a batch of beads weren't so dumb after all.

Joe invited me to visit in his home and I hope to take advantage of his hospitality late this summer.

Joe is an educated, knowledgable man who knows the written history as well as the word-of mouth lore of his people handed down from generation to generation.

He served as an officer under General George Patton during World War II.

It was heartwarming to note that this man whose people were defeated by the white man due to superior arms and numbers considers himself an American first.

He also is cognizant of his duty to his red brethren having served four terms as lieutenant governor of his tribe.

Talking to Joe Cat'e was a privilege and a high point of my short visit to Santa Fe.

Smith Attends Style Seminar

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. (Bob) Smith of Canyon were recently in Waco where he attended a hair styling seminar.

While in Waco, the Smiths (Bob and Joyce and their children, Rob and Stacey) were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Carter. The Carters formerly lived in Canyon during which time he was with the Farm Bureau here.

County Again Violates Policy

County commissioners poked another hole in their sieve-like personnel policy Monday, but indicated some changes may be in the mill for the policy.

Commissioners came out of an executive session just before 5 p.m. Monday to vote on a raise for an appraiser in the county tax office. It was the second time in the last month commissioners have violated their own personnel policy by granting raises to county tax office employees.

Mrs. Audrey Bruse, tax assessor-collector, met with commissioners behind closed doors to discuss personnel. When the meeting was reopened to the public, Mrs. Bruse explained that appraiser Monroe Carr should receive a pay hike to $800 per month plus 25 cents per mile car allowance.

Two weeks ago, commissioners again after meeting in executive session with Mrs. Bruse, granted salary hikes to several tax office employees.

The county personnel policy, promulgated by commissioners several years ago and reaffirmed in January, states that raises will be given only once per year on the January date designated by commissioners.

Commissioner John Fulgenzi told commissioners he wants to discuss the policy at the next regular commission meeting. Fulgenzi did not mention in open session what turn the discussion may take on the policy.

In other action, commissioners approved the hiring of five new employees for Mrs. Bruse's office, including two vocational office education students from Canyon High School.

They also finally relented after at least two years of hassle and allowed a part-time employee to work with Mrs. Ruth Hill, county treasurer.

Mrs. Hill has appeared before commissioners on an almost annual basis seeking additional help in her office. Mrs. Hill did not seek re-election this year and will end her term Jan. 1.

She slammed commissioners last year when they declined to hire part-time help for her office.

Commissioner Bill Butler told Mrs. Hill Monday the commissioners are not concerned with the problems of paying another part-time employee but are not convinced of the need for extra help for her office.

Butler moved that Mrs. Hill be allowed a part-time employee to work not more than 50 hours a month.

"I could use her a lot more than that," Mrs. Hill said. "But, I'll take it at that."

In other business, commissioners accepted a plat for another tract of development in Tangle-Aire Estates.

The plat was accepted with the understanding that the developers will follow the new road policy when constructing streets in the area and will notify the county of their intentions to use curb and gutter on the streets.

The plat was the first accepted in the county with curb and gutter to be used on the roads.

Streets will not be accepted for maintenance by the county until two years following completion.

Commissioners also accepted the streets in another section of the development, an area previously platted and accepted, for county maintenance.

They also approved the application for $13,000 from the Texas Criminal Justice Council for staffing of a microfilming center for the county.

While the bulk of the work in the center will be devoted to microfilming of district and county clerk records, part of the center will microfilm records in the sheriff's department, according to County Judge Woody Pond.

Pond said the CJC grant will pay only for one roll of microfilm per day and for the salaries of two employees.

County Clerk LeRoy Hutton reported to commissioners that he is still studying the possibilities for use of microfilming in storage of deed and title records as well as other records used in the courthouse.

Tax Collector Mrs. Bruse was given the go-ahead to enter into agreement to purchase two terminals for the remote computer operation for her office. For more than a year the tax rolls of the county have been worked on the West Texas State University computers. The university is now changing over its computer system and the new terminals will be used in the county end of the cooperative venture.

Cosby Book Is Out; Party To Be Sunday

As I read through the masterful pages
Of poets of fame and renown,
As I grasp at the thoughts of the sages
Their reasoning gigantic and sound,
My ego is met with destruction
And I turn with a sickening pain
To the chaff of my feeble production
And hopelessly sift for the grain.

No masterful thought from it springing,
With poetry it may not compare;
Yet no other songster's sweet singing
Unburdens my soul of its care;
For the heart of the human is fashioned
With emotions perplexing and strong
And can only give vent to its passions
As it gives to the world its song.

Clarence N. Cosby may in times of wistfulness feel he writes but no one hears, but for those with open ears, Cosby presents his new volume "Wayside Reveries," published recently in Canyon.

Cosby, a South Plains native, who's roamed the Panhandle for 77 years and paused along the way to put his pencil to paper to record his thoughts, will be honored with an autograph party from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday at the Canyon News office.

Copies of "Wayside Reveries" will be available. The book was published by The Staked Plains Press, a subsidiary of The News.

Cosby, still recovering from a tangle in May with a Santa Fe Railway locomotive, will be on hand to sign copies of his volume, which includes poems and short narratives he's written during the last 54 years.

A native of Howard County, Cosby grew up in Borden County before coming to the Panhandle.

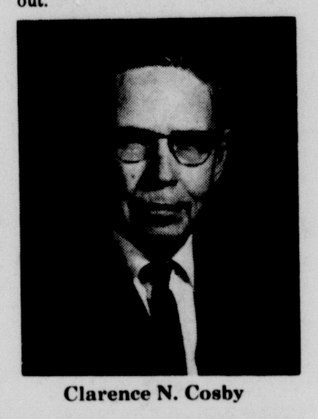
He put in stints with the Borger News-Herald as circulation manager and then as a printer before going to Amarillo and then to Hereford. He came to Canyon in 1950.

For Cosby, the urge to write poetry has been with him almost forever.

His first poem was written in about 1920, he says, and one of the poems which appears in "Wayside Reveries" was written while he was on a train trip back to the Panhandle from the Gulf Coast area.

"I've written stuff along through the years," Cosby said. "The trash can got a lot of it and probably should have got more."

He says he's written poetry "because you get something inside of you and you have to get it out."



Clarence N. Cosby

"I like the ability to make word pictures of things I see," Cosby said. "Now, I'm not an artist, but all of us are more or less artists in our own way of thinking. Some tell it with brush and some with words and with various degrees of efficiency.

"I've always admired a person who could paint a pretty picture and have meaning to it.

"I don't pretend to be a writer. I'm just an old working boy and I've seen some things that inspired me and I've tried to record them, that's all."

For Cosby, the publication of "Wayside Reveries" represents not a money-making proposition, but rather a volume which he can pass on to "those who follow me."

"Wayside Reveries" will probably not be the final publication for Cosby, either. He says he's contemplating another book — this one to be titled "As I Remember," and largely concerning the vignettes his father, a participant in the Civil War, told him of that war and the Old South, and of settling in the wild Panhandle country.

"Most writing now glorifies the big ranchers and they deserve it, I guess," Cosby said. "They had their place, but the credit for the development of the Plains country goes to the little man with a wife and kids who wanted a home for them and was willing to pay the price."

Uncle Henry's Portrayal New Stagelight For Sook

By LORENA MILLER

As the sun sets on Palo Duro Canyon the night of June 19, Dennis Sook will begin creating the role of Uncle Henry for audiences attending the outdoor musical drama "Texas."

Sook, a native of Ivanhoe, Minnesota, will be portraying the lead character of the drama throughout the summer until the final performance on August 24. Showtime each evening will be at 8:30 p.m. with performances held nightly excepting Sundays.

Uncle Henry will be Sook's first outdoor drama role to run for any length of time, he said. The strength of Uncle Henry's perseverance is a quality which Sook will strive to capture totally in the next 2½ weeks before performances begin at the Pioneer Amphitheatre.

"The actors came about a week before some of the dancers and other cast members," said Sook, "this is the largest total cast that I have had the opportunity to play with and it is proving to be a real treat for me."

As the actor, Sook sees Uncle Henry in a different respect than the audience and said that he would like to have a mirror to see the play from the audience himself one evening.

"The more you give of yourself to a role the better you can portray the character's personality to your audience," he said. "I see Uncle Henry as an old time rancher who couldn't see the progressive growth of change — and today he'd probably be like me — thinking that the world is moving at a "too fast" pace over what it was 5, 10 or 20 years past."

Sook holds the B.A. degree in speech and theatre from Mankato College in Minnesota which was the result of his parents training, support and the serviceman's GI Bill. Raised at Ivanhoe, Minn., Sook was the youngest of ten children raised in a farming community there.

"I was raised seven miles outside town, in a small farming community which had some livestock but not near as many as this region," he stated. "When I graduated from high school at age 17 I went to the Army for two years during which I served in Germany and was stationed several places in the states."

"When I came home from the Army I wanted to farm, but my dad pointed out that there wasn't too much future in farming so I enrolled at Mankato State College for four years study and took the speech-theatre route," he said.

While attending Mankato State College, Sook was cast in numerous plays including the roles in "Rashomon," "Mr. Roberts," "Twelfth Night," "Gideon," "Barefoot In The Park," "Odd Couple," "Man and Superman," "Misanthrope," "She Stoops To Conquer," "Six Characters in Search," and "Long Day's Journey" where he was cast with actor John Carradine, "One Way Pendulum" where he played Sgt. Barnes under the director Patrick Horgan and "Taming Of The Shrew."

After playing his college drama roles, Sook took a position selling meat for the Wilson Meat Packing Company at Albert Lea, Minnesota and Buffalo, New York. He didn't leave the theatre though and continued working with the Albert Lea Community Theatre where he played the role of Joseph in "My Three Angels."

Sook's next position came as a college textbook sales agent in Tennessee and Alabama with the Holt-Rinehart and Winston Publishing Company, a position he held for about a year, and then summered in Moline, Illinois where he portrayed characters for the Playcrafters Barn Theatre there.

"I was paid $500 that whole summer and it wound up costing me more for expenses," he said. "I was on the contract as the musical and technical director even though I was the lead character. They arranged the contract that way so that I could be paid — most of the actors and actresses were not paid though."

At Playcrafters Barn Theatre, Sook played in "Waltz Of The Toreadors" as General St. Pe' and Bob McKellaway in "Mary, Mary" and was also cast in "Gammer Gurton's Needle." The plays were presented in the loft of a barn.

He then attended the graduate school of Southern Illinois University where he was hired on the staff as an acting assistant and received compensation for his acting there. "I still need 12 credits to get my master's degree and plan to finish the degree one of these days when time and money permit," he said. At Southern Illinois University he played "Spoon River Anthology," and "A Flea In Her Ear."

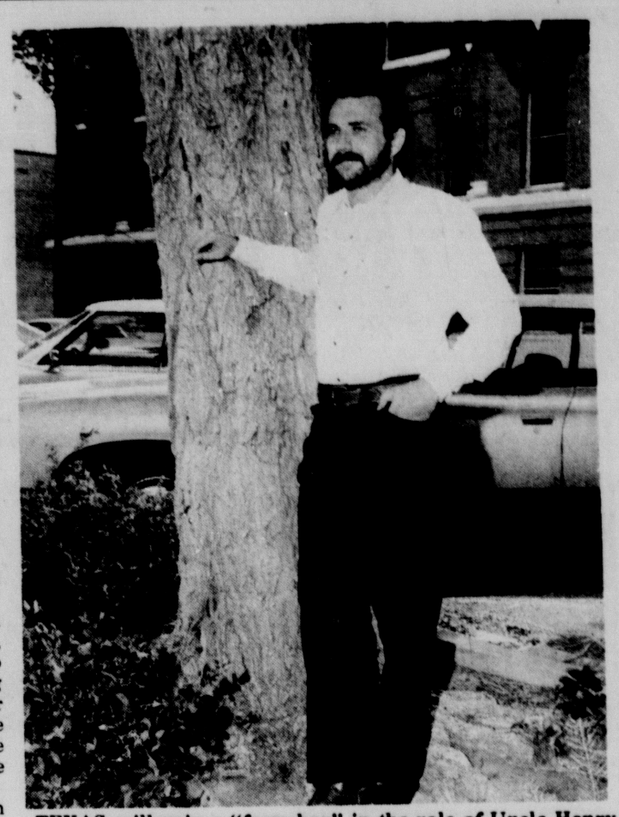
Sook has also portrayed Gournet in "The Debate" directed by Maria Piscator which played at Anspacher Theatre, Actor's Studio and Cubiculo Theatre, all in New York. During 1971-72 he took a national tour with the National Shakespeare Company as an actor in the group during which time he made his first visit to Texas.

During 1972-73 he played in the Minneapolis-St. Paul area in several roles including "Collette;" the Tennessee Williams play "Orpheus Descending;" the futuristic play by Anderson titled "Solitaire;" as a giant in "Prince Littlefoot" for children's theatre; and as a young wealthy oil-man in the play "Send Me No Flowers" where he was cast with Alan Souse of Laugh-In television notoriety.

In addition to stage performances, Sook has been before the cameras for several film sequences including a role as a policeman which was filmed for television presentation. Although the pay is good in television work, Sook said that he prefers the closeness of playing his roles from the stage.

Other than playing an outdoor performance before, he stated that "Texas" will be his first long-standing outdoor production and is anxious to see that the "rain comes on cue."

Dennis Sook is the youngest of ten children. He has five sisters, all of whom earned their college degrees to become teachers. Two of his brothers died as youths and another brother was killed in a pedestrian accident after serving in the Korean War. His remaining brother is a veterinarian in Marshall, Minnesota.



TEXAS will gain a "farm boy" in the role of Uncle Henry when performances begin for the outdoor musical drama this summer. Dennis Sook, a native son of Minnesota, is making his home in Canyon for the summer and hopes to try his luck at riding horses to pass time between performances of the noted outdoor show.

Umbarger News

By REBA RAEF

THIS IS GETTING to be a rainy country. Last Saturday night we had .30 inches of rain and then on Sunday night we had .86. It's been quite a while since we have had rain two nights in a row, for which we are most grateful.

* * *

WE WOULD LIKE to congratulate all the seniors who were graduated last Friday evening. There were ten from Umbarger in the class, including our number one grandson, Kenneth Hartman. That leaves us 20 more grandchildren to be graduated.

CONGRATULATIONS TO JUANITA Hartman, who is one of six area high school juniors chosen to pilot the program at West Texas State University. The program makes available to qualified high school students college level courses. Juanita was chosen for the excellence of her academic abilities and recommendations by her principal and counselors. Juanita is the daughter of Carl and Lorene Hartman.

RECENT WEEK END guests of the Anton Handings were Mary and Rodney Kolac and daughters, Dametria and Tiffany, from Golden, Colo. and Genevieve and Ross Keesee and daughter, Amy, from Plano. Sunday dinner guests were Anthony and Nancy Handing and daughter, Joanna, from Dalhart and Robert and Jim Handing, also from Dalhart. Ann was the only one of the Handing children who was not at home for the occasion.

Ann and Yvonne Dooley flew to Harlingen to attend the wedding of Joan Dooley. While there, they visited Reynosa and Matamoros, Mexico. They also spent a week end at the beach on South Padre Island. Anna and Yvonne became members of the Boracho Club in McAllen. They were gone for over two weeks.

THERE WERE 125 guests at the Knights of Columbus Charity supper, held May 28, in St. Mary's parish hall. We saw the Don Dolles, the Paul Fergusons and the Harold Dillehays, all from Canyon. John and Marty Pitts, a new family in Umbarger, also attended, as did their daughter, Kelli. A good sized crowd played cards and dominoes in the Columbus Club Hall, following the supper.

WE WOULD LIKE to welcome the Bell family to Umbarger. They bought the teacherage here in Umbarger. They came here from Amarillo.

WE WOULD REMIND persons interested in the adult education classes, to be offered this fall, to contact Tom or Shirley Payne at 499-2825 or you may call me at 499-2164 and let us know which class you might want to take. These classes will be night classes and will be taught by qualified instructors.

DON'T FORGET THE Mass closing the C.C.D. classes, to be offered in St. Mary's parish hall next Sunday at 10:00 a.m. The work of the students will be on display and parents and friends are invited to visit the displays. At 12 noon, a covered dish dinner will be served. Each family is asked to bring enough food for themselves and the coffee and tea will be furnished.

MARION AND SUZY Hicks and sons, Doug, Danny and Jason went to Dalhart last Sunday to visit Allen and Marilyn Hicks and son, Chad. Suzy said that on the way home, they got caught in a heavy rain storm and could hardly see the road.

ALL 4-H CLUB members are reminded to get their record books in order and up-to-date. Any member needing record blanks for their meat animal projects should contact Carroll Adams.

4-H girls who would like to sew a garment for the 4-H dress revue, to be held in July, should call Barbara Hartman at 499-2748, right away.

Boys Ranch Mishap Fatal To Johnson

Larry Johnson, an agriculture teacher at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, was electrocuted while moving irrigation pipe last week.

Johnson, 24, had been a member of the ranch staff for four years and was the first son of a staff member to graduate from Boys Ranch High School. He earned his degree at West Texas State University here and had attended Texas Tech in Lubbock.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Daylon Johnson, also of the Boys Ranch staff, and is survived by a wife, Rose Ann, and daughter, Stephanie, 3, and a grandmother, Mrs. Jeannette Johnson of Shamrock.

If you've always wondered what a Capp Home is like, here's your chance to find out.

Come to our Open House and you'll see how the owners can save thousands by doing the finishing themselves.

Capp erects and closes in the home on your lot. You do the finishing and save a bundle. Or simply sub-contract all the finishing and still save hundreds of dollars.

A closed-in Capp Home ready for finishing by owners — at big savings!

By the way, since this house isn't all finished and prettied up with fancy furniture, you'll also be able to examine our workmanship and materials very closely. We figure a Capp Home doesn't have to be finished to look impressive.

availability of water.

But, farmers could decide to plant dryland sorghum in fields which bore a droughted-out wheat crop and up the acreage of sorghum in the county considerably.

The weekend rains made not only a big difference for sorghum farmers but for cow-calf operators also.

The rains add much-needed moisture to dry pastures and range-lands.

While the rains put a smile on farmers' faces, the moisture will need to be repeated this summer with showers for a good dryland sorghum crop, Brazzil said.

"We have no surplus yet," he said. "We still could hold some more moisture."

are themselves flood plain areas.

The resolution passed Tuesday night was made necessary by a new federal act which states that federally-subsidized or federally insured loans cannot be made to build houses or buildings in flood plain areas.

City Commissioner Jim Christopher urged passage of the resolution to aid developers in the development of areas which now lie in the two creek areas identified by a Corps of Engineers study as part of the potential flood plain.

Commissioners have apparently already instituted some policies to prevent the construction of housing in flood plain areas without proper precautionary measures.

For example, they approved the final plat for the northern half of the Hunsley Hills development section during action Tuesday night, but only after making that approval contingent on the receipt of a recordable instrument from Developer A. W. Lair that no houses will be constructed in the flood plain of Palo Duro Creek until proper measures are taken to raise the ground level of the foundations.

Loudder said no building permits will be issued for houses in the Hunsley area of the flood plain until engineering results are given the city concerning the plain.

The plat approved by commissioners contains 184 lots.

In other business Tuesday night, commissioners approved awarding of a bid for a new hydraulic sewer cleaning machine. The machine will cost $20,000 and should be available in about seven months.

They also okayed the closing of an alley between Foster and Taylor Lanes at the end of 7th Avenue.

William Bentley Earns MD Degree

He earned his pre-med degree at Stanford University, and during his studies at Stanford spent a semester in Austria. He will intern at Baylor University Medical Center in Dallas.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Bentley of Dallas. Mrs. Bentley is the former Lynnette Harter of Canyon. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harter of Canyon attended the graduation ceremonies for their grandson and visited in the Dallas home of their daughter and son-in-law during the events.

department and tax office. Officials have estimated the county could charge as much as $16,000 for the listing.

The county also provides at a nominal charge deed and title records and other property records for the city tax office.

Fletcher said both classes of documents will be re-examined from the standpoint of costs to the county to prepare them and then will be sold to Amarillo.

Commissioners voted in a regular commissioners court meeting Monday to sell Amarillo the automobile registration lists after costs are determined for preparing the lists.

United Nations Trip Won By Shanna Webb

A young lady who will begin Canyon High School this fall as a senior has been selected to take a summer tour of the United Nations. The honor has come to Shanna Webb, 17, from a recent essay written for a contest being sponsored by the Rebecca and Odd Fellow Lodges in Amarillo.

Shanna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Webb of 17 Dellwood Drive in Hunsley Hills and has one younger sister, Tyra, age 8. Her mother is a secretary for the Amarillo Senior Citizens and her father is employed as an instrument technician with Pantex.

The Webb family has been living in Canyon for about a year. Shanna is a member of the Student Council at Canyon High School and active in the CHS Choir.

Her trip to the United Nations will begin June 16th with a plane flight to Dallas after which she will go by chartered bus to New York City for a week's visit and sightseeing there along with seeing an active session of the United Nations. The tour will also include the historical sights along the Atlantic Coastal states and a visit in Washington D.C., with even a possible side trip into Canada.

Shanna entered the contest on the urging of her grandmother, Mrs. D. T. Webb of Amarillo, who is a member of the Rebecca Lodge there. She will attend the trip along with three male and two female students winning essay reports from the Amarillo lodges.

In effect Shanna will see first hand the workings of the United Nations and view the participation of her country as she stated in her essay "Why I Would Like to Visit the United Nations." The text of her short essay follows:

"By going to the United Nations I would gain much more than an education. The U.N. stands as a symbol of unity and a meeting of nations. The education learned on a trip to the U.N. would give a first eye view of our country in action. The experience would be enough to be able to say that you, yourself, took part in a bit of America's progress.

"To live in a state of Texas is enough to have a general idea of a state's progress as a part of a country. But to visit the U.N. would be a first eye view of so many countries working together and helping each other in so many ways.

"To be a young person of today, I want much more out of life than just T.V. reports. I want to know what's going on and how I could take part to better my country and my education.

"So many reasons for going to the U.N. could never be written on paper. I would like to go for keen desire and a lot of experience."

LOOKING OVER AN ESSAY which has won her a trip to the United Nations in New York City this summer is Shanna Webb, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Webb of Canyon.

Readin' And Writin'

By LORENA MILLER

Guess there is still a little of the ole' farmer left in us city folks too — have seen garden spots planted several places over in our neighborhood.

The R.D. Oldhams, a couple of blocks down the street, plant a corner of their yard each year in a profusion of flowers, intermingled with foodstuffs for their table, and just across the street Mr. and Mrs. E.E. Miller have left their growing garden under the watchful eye of a granddaughter while they take a brief vacation trip. Handily the granddaughter is our own, Carolyn, and she has Grandpa and Grandma's instructions to "raid the patch and keep it from getting too overgrown before they return."

When she gets finished tending her garden and yard chores for the Miller grandparents, the little lady will stretch her legs down a cotton row at Grandpa Long's, down in the midst of Muleshoe watermelon and farming country — might be HOT, but cotton chopping can be a good training ground for endurance — it makes you want to go ahead with a sound education and school won't seem so bad when classes start back in the fall after a summer tromping down the furrows.

Read where Mrs. L.B. Taylor, who lives out in Rockwell Acres, took 13 of her bantam chickens from her flock of 250 to a recent show at the Oklahoma City Bantam Club and brought back a couple of championships and a fistful of first places for her efforts. Her championships came in the Silky and Barred Rock divisions. Mrs. Taylor's bantams took firsts in numerous divisions.

Bill Jones and his daughter, Sherrie, have a couple of those "metal detectors" and spend some of their leisure time seeking out treasurers. Jones, who manages the Buffalo Book Store for Mr. and Mrs. E.T. Cummings, was seeking out the treasures in our neighborhood one evening this week end. His finds included two buried pennies, a dime (which had been buried long enough to turn copper colored like a penny) and a couple of bottle caps along with a tarnished spoon left from some barbecue in the past.

With his metal detector, Jones likes to visit the concession areas following ball games and also the firework stands along the roadside. (Guess he'll miss out on the firework stands this year since the new legislation will probably remove the dangers of the 4th of July celebration).

Speaking of firecrackers, one summer we were vacationing during the July 4th holiday and being on the road the day of celebration decided to buy just one firecracker. We did just that by investing in a miniature United States flag which was placed on the radio aerial — that firecracker flag went the rest of our vacation and for several months afterward before losing its "fire."

Auxiliary Bakes Goodies To Sell

By EARLINE BENHAM

THE AUXILIARY HAD a bake sale at K-Mart's sidewalk sale Saturday, June 1st. The sale was a big success. We made $69 total profit.

OUR BINGO GAME Friday May 3rd went very well. All the prizes were taken, so get ready everyone! We'll have a whole batch of new prizes for the next game and expect a big crowd.

THE AUXILIARY IS planning a party for the fire department and the ladies auxiliary. We're about to reach our thousand dollar mark and believe that everyone deserves a celebration for all of their hard work. We won't quit there, as we will need money for operating costs and emergency funds. The guys have looked at a few trucks lately.

We still don't know what the cost will be for the truck they decide on, but we sure plan to have the money available for them this time.

SCHOOL IS OUT for the summer now. The place is swarming with happy children. Some of the kids are enrolled in Bible School now, and some are enrolled in the summer activity classes to be held at the college. Siesta would like to take this opportunity to thank all of the young adults who will be devoting most of their summer to these children.

MR. AND MRS. McKee and children will start their vacation Wednesday. They plan on going to Oklahoma City first, then on to Six Flags. They expect to return Saturday.

Summer Classes Beginning At Gene Howe

By TROYCE MULHERIN

Summer Vacation Greetings:

FOR ONE WHO hasn't yet recovered from the Easter holidays, this End of School bit came somewhat early. There's hope, yet.

Have luckily found numerous classes for the little darlings to attend. Fertile minds should be kept busy, busy, busy. Right? Right!

Speaking of classes — summer school will start at Gene Howe on June 10th and close July 12, with holidays on July 4 and July 5. Mr. Luther Lawless will be teaching four classes in math. Gay Cochran, who heads up the special reading department at Gene Howe, will be teaching the reading classes. She will be assisted by Loy Gerald. Ellen Wilson will be teaching in the L/LD classes. Mrs. Byrd from Canyon will have a group in developmental class subjects. Due to pre-enrollment, all these classes have been filled.

One last reminder to do-it-yourselfers: The beginning upholstery class will start at nine in the morning on the 11th of June. End at noon. This class will not meet July 4th. Classes will be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays. The five-week course will cost $25.00, and is open to anyone fourteen years of age or over.

A summer stretch and sew course is in the mill for Gene Howe. Call the school and get your name on the list. If you miss connections there, you may call Dr. Ken Hart, Vocational Director of the school district, at 655-2169, and let him know of your desire to attend.

PACK 130 OF the Cub Scouts ended a busy year of activities with a picnic and pine wood derby race at the Gene Howe school park last week. Scout families brought fried chicken and all the trimmings, including homemade ice cream to enjoy together.

However, the youngsters were more interested in the pine wood derby race than in eating. All the young men, with a little help from their dads or other interested party, built a five-ounce wooden race car. These cars were raced on a gravity designed wooden track. Each youngster raced his car twice.

Winning cars were: Den One: Scott powers, first; Dewayne Hollis, second. Den Two: Kevin Smith, first; Wayne Bruffett, second. Webelos: Darrell Bruffett, first; David Bromley, second. The pack's Grand Champion was Darrell Bruffett. The pack Reserve Champion was Scott Powers. Shannon Edwards took honors with the best designed car. Mike Gensler took top rating in the Funny Car division. Neighborhood judges delivering fair and impartial service were Pete Solbrig, Roy Cates and Bill Hall.

Other awards were presented during the evening's activities. Gary Glenn received his Wolf badge. Kevin Smith became a Bobcat. Wayne Bruffett and Scott Powers each received a Silver Arrow. David Bromley accepted a citizen badge. John Ashley received recognition by the acceptance of the Athlete and Showman badges. Mike Gensler received the Athlete and Sportsman badges; and, Darrell Bruffett the Athlete and Showman badges.

BILL EDWARDS' WEBELO group has been doing some camping lately. They participated in a scout camporee at Camp Don and also in the Webelo campout. Those attending the Webelo campout included Bill Edwards, Joe Detten, and Bob Scott as sponsors. Youngsters attending included Scott Hetzler, Jody Detten, David Bromley, Ronny Kyle, Steve Stokes, Shannon Edwards, Mike Gensler, Mike Scott, John Hanson, Kenny Nagunst, John Ashley and Darrell Bruffett. The boys cooked their own meals, learned about fire building and first aid. The big treat, however, was a big wind storm with rain which competed with the Kwahadi Indian Dancers.

On June 8th the pack will attend Cub Country at Camp Don. Members will meet at the Bill Edwards home at twelve noon. Be sure to eat before you come 'cause a busy afternoon of archery, swimming, canoeing, rifle range(ing) and hiking will take a lot of energy. These scouts are looking forward to more scouting fun this summer and fall.

Shouldn't you be a cub, if you are eight, nine or ten years old? Parents, shouldn't you become involved in this fine scouting program? Try it — you'll like it!

HEATHER WAIT, DAUGHTER of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wait, combined celebrating the end of school and her birthday with a swimming party at the YWCA last Saturday.

Joining Heather in the swim were Lori Roth, Gay Gibson, Pam Holt, Tracy Betty, Eve Roberts, Dawn Davee, Rachel Dawson, Kelli Bullock and Valorie Davis. This was Heather's Big Seven, and these youngsters topped off the fun time with ice cream and cake.

THE RONNIE MAYFIELDS have gained a teenager in the family ranks. Daughter Sherrye reached the ripe old age of thirteen on the 5th. A family type celebration marked this important day in Sherrye's life. Many more happies, young lady!

A belated happy day to Mary Whipple who birthdayed on the 1st, and to David Johnson who aged a year as of the 2nd of this month.

Best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Luther Lawless, who will observe their anniversary this coming Sunday, the 9th.

CAROL HOLLINGSWORTH'S AFTERNOON kindergarten class was treated to a special event last week. The youngsters were taken to Mr. and Mrs. Herb McGregor's home for the express (and exciting) purpose of seeing a real horse being shod. It was time for Sherri McGregor's horse, "Red," to get some new summer shoes, and Vondean decided the youngsters would benefit from this experience. And they did. Only one youngster out of the 26 present had ever even seen such art being practiced.

A very personable gentleman by the name of Red introduced the youngsters to his art and gave each of them a lovely, rusty horseshoe all their very own to take home!

KIDS, INC., BALL has started. Bet you have noticed the youngsters at our Gene Howe school park practicing. One of the most excited teams is that co-coached by Mr. and Mrs. Don Wilcox, who have a first grade boys T-ball team. The second grade T-ball boys team is being coached by Jerry Erdman, who is assisted by Mrs. Linda Trammell. Female first and second graders are playing T-ball under the coaching of Tanya Holt and Jackie Mayfield. Third grade boys are being coached by Gene Powers and Larry Brooks. Fourth grade boys are being coached by Windell Trammell. Veteran coach Euris Phipps has charge of the third and fourth grade girls. Len Schmidt and Danny Sellers are coaching the fifth and sixth grade boys. Ken Drost and George Schmidt will again coach "their" girls who are now fifth graders. Mrs. Larry Bays is lending her coaching talents to the sixth grade girls.

ALERT! FLASH! ETC! The Bell Avenue Baptist Church is sponsoring a ball team this summer. Players range in grades fourth through sixth. Any boy twelve or under is hereby invited to play with this team which will participate in the church league play.

Elbert Moore of Mescalero Park is the coach, and is assisted by Buster Carlile. Jackie Mayfield is the lady to call concerning your joining up with this team. There are no fees. Come on out and have some fun!

WOULD YOU BELIEVE? Understand that the Bill Edwards family recently spent a windless weekend at Palo Duro Park. That's believable. Understand that even Sarah managed to climb to the top of the Canyon. That's believable(?)! She breathlessly relates that the view was worth it. That's believable(?)! Her menfolk set a gruelling pace, which this dauntless lady met.

TIME AGAIN FOR our annual prayer. Not that we have just one a year — it's simply that this one is seemingly appropriate at this time — the "End of Mother's Vacation." It's titled "A Parent's Prayer," author unknown to yours truly.

"O heavenly Father, make me a better parent.

"Teach me to understand my children, to listen patiently to what they have to say, and to answer all their questions kindly. Keep me from interrupting them or contradicting them. Make me as courteous to them as I would have them be to me. Forbid that I should ever laugh at their mistakes, or resort to shame or ridicule when they displease me. May I never punish them for my own selfish satisfaction or to show my power.

"Let me not tempt my child to lie or steal. And guide me hour by hour that I may demonstrate by all I say and do that honesty produces happiness.

"Reduce, I pray, the meanness in me. And, when I am out of sorts, help me, O Lord, to hold my tongue.

"May I ever be mindful that my children are children and I should not expect of them the judgment of adults.

"Let me not rob them of the opportunity to wait on themselves and to make decisions.

"Bless me with the bigness to grant them all their reasonable requests, and the courage to deny them privileges I know will do them harm.

"Make me fair and just and kind. And fit me, O Lord, to be loved and respected and imitated by my children. Amen."

Canyon's Churchlife

A PROMISE
Then I will give you rain in due season, and the land shall yield her increase, and the trees of the field shall yield their fruit. Leviticus 26:4

LaCasa Canyon Rest Home will have special programs of music and visitation provided during the month of June by members of the First Christian Church of Canyon. Last Sunday, the church group presented pillow corsages made by members of the "Helping Hands" to nursing home residents during their visitations.

Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Pettit were honored by members of the congregation of the First Assembly of God Church of Canyon following evening worship services Sunday. A love offering of money was presented the Pettits on the occasion of their 22nd year with the church here. The gift was to be used by the Pettits to buy a new furnishing of their choice for their home at 3110 Conner Drive, where the Pettits have been living only two weeks. PALISADES PALAVER

By MILDRED TURNER

I'VE ALWAYS BEEN kind of a farmer at heart, although I have done most of my farming in pots.

Since we are doing more and more and making a larger garden this year, I purchased a wheelbarrow.

It was one of those which had to be assembled so G. and I got out on the grass and started putting it together.

Here are the seven steps (they might come in handy)!

Step 1: Remove all parts from the box.

Step 2: Join each handle (a) to each leg (b) do not bolt. Note R right hand and L left hand legs.

Step 3: Place axle (c) through wheel

Step 4: Attach the flat side of each handle-leg assembly to the axle with the large nut (d) turn lock nut snug, then back off if too tight. Turn the whole assembly upside down.

Step 5: Bolt cross brace (f) to the handle leg assemblies at the points where the two pieces of tubing are joined. Use the smallest bolts (g) and nuts (h) and washers (l)

Step 6: Turn the assembly right side up and attach the tray using the ¼-inch bolts (i) washers (j) on the underside and nuts(k). Tighten all nuts and bolts.

Step 7: Install the two handle grips

Being an eager beaver I promptly did Step 1 and Step 7. Step 2 was not too bad, Step 3 was easy (there is only one wheel and axle. Step 4 was something else, since nearly all the nuts and bolts looked the same size, G. let me sit there and try each nut on the bolt (to see which ones fit) before telling me this.

By this time we both were rather hot, snug and up tight. We were also turned upside down. (Someone drove by and honked!)

Step 5 was fairly easy as we had already used all the small bolts except these two. (The washers have holes in the centers.)

Step 6 was a whiz because there were only four large bolts, nuts and washers left to put on the tray and I had done step seven following step 1. Sure am using it, is light weight and handy.

CAROLYN AND DAN Bailey went to Houston the 20th of May and got back Sunday. They visited her sister Belva, the San Jacinto Battleship, and the Monument. They went to the beach in Galveston. Carolyn said Dana (2) really liked the ocean, but Brent (3½) liked Belva's swimming pool better. They visited another one of Carolyn's sisters, Sara in Tenaha close to the Louisiana border. Carolyn had never been to Louisiana so Sara took her across the border.

Tractor Course Set On June 11

County Agent John Brazzil will join with agents from Potter and Oldham Counties later this month to sponsor a tractor safety course in Amarillo.

Brazzil, will teach the course with Gaines Franks of Potter County and Jimmy Walker of Oldham County.

The course will be for 14- and 15-year-old youths who have jobs driving tractors on area farms. Because the operation of farm tractors and other machinery is considered hazardous, Brazzil said, the youths between 14 and 16 years of age must have special exemptions to work for pay as tractor operators on farms not operated by their family members.

The 8-hour course will be at the Gouldy Arena at the Tri-State Fairgrounds in Amarillo. The course will begin at 8:30 a.m. June 11 and the course work and written examination will be completed that day.

A driving course required of all students will be scheduled later.

No charge is made for the course and no pre-registration is required. Participants should bring their lunch.

The June 11 course will be the only one scheduled this summer.

More To Little League Than Playing Ball

Little League baseball is more than just two months during the summer according to Dee Nix, president of the Canyon Little League.

Nix said that planning for the Little League season starts at the end of the present season. Nix who began his work in January said that there are a dozen areas that go to make up the program and not all of them have to do with playing.

Presently there are about 230 players in the local program according to Frank Castleberry, player agent.

Nix said that one of the major problems in the local program is that only a few people get involved in the planning stages.

Nix said that each Little League year begins in January when the charter for the local program must be renewed. There is a lot of paper work involved in the program according to Nix. Insurance covering liability and medical insurance must be bought. Equipment for the coming season must be ordered well ahead of the season.

In January the league leaders begin to seek people who will be involved in the program. The playing field must be cared for. According to Nix there is a need for another playing field here.

Little League is a self supporting program. No funds are designated by the city or other organizations for this program. Money used to support the program comes from four sources. These sources are the candy sale, that is now in progress, the sale of advertising signs on the fence at the playing field, donations from parents and the concession stand. Nix points out that kids are allowed to play whether or not their parents donate to the program.

Nix said that there is a need to have coaches and umpire clinics each year prior to the start of the season. He said that he hopes this will take place during the next year.

Frank Castleberry, player agent for the Little League, said that registration of players begins in March of each year. He said that try-outs are held during the first part of April. Castleberry is in charge of the draft for major league players. Castleberry is also in charge of schedules and player assignments.

Castleberry said that he spends from four to five hours a week with the program.

He said that there is a board of directors elected from concerned parents and community people. From this group an executive committee is elected. This board rules on all major decisions that must be made during the year.

Two Named Outstanding Educators

Mrs. Ruth Holladay, secondary curriculum coordinator for Canyon Independent School District, and W.V. McAlpin, vice-principal at Canyon High School, have been named to the list of Outstanding Secondary Educators of America for 1974. Nominated by their principals earlier this year, they were selected for this honor on the basis of their professional and civic achievements.

Outstanding Secondary Educators of America is an annual awards program honoring distinguished men and women for their exceptional services, achievements and leadership in the field of secondary education. Each year, the biographies of those honored are featured in the awards volume, "Outstanding Secondary Educators of America."

These educators are now eligible to receive the Outstanding Secondary Educator of the Year award trophy. Five $500. unrestricted grants will be awarded to the schools represented by America's five Outstanding Secondary Educators. A board of advisors will choose the five individual secondary teachers to be honored. In this way, the program thanks the teacher and the school for their contributions to the continuing excellence of American education.

In announcing the award winners to the administrators, Dr. V. Gilbert Beers, Director of the Outstanding Secondary Educators of America program stated "The men and women chosen for this high honor have explored new paths, developed new insights and effectively communicated their knowledge to their students and colleagues. They are exceptional teachers."

Guidelines for selection include an educator's talents in the classroom, contributions to research, administrative abilities, civic service and professional recognition.
